

Main table containing various financial data, including bond prices, interest rates, and market indicators. Columns include names of securities, their values, and market status.