

Main table containing financial data, stock prices, and market information organized in columns and rows.

Vertical text on the right margin, possibly containing additional market news or commentary.